Introduction

Effective business management solutions are key to timely and insightful business decisions.

FACTS offers a range of software applications to suit almost any environment by combining the latest trends for driving performance improvements across sales, customer service and marketing to increase revenues, deepen customer relationships and improve customer satisfaction. All our solutions are the result of years of experience and strong relationships with our partners. A Complete solution to support fundamental business requirements, enabling adaptive change, complete integration, and easy collaboration. With Customization a specialty.

About FACTS !!

FACTS Computer Software House is a Software solution centre focused to provide complete & integrated customized business solutions with a strong customer base in UAE, with all the facilities including the software development team based in Dubai itself thereby providing 100% customer support and services. In the software industry, though there are many factors which contribute to the failure of a software project, one of the main reasons is the poor after sales service and support provided by the software suppliers. This is mainly because most of them are software resellers rather than developers and though they claim the software can be customized, it is often limited to minor alterations.

Why FACTS?

We believe that any software solution is only as good as the company that conceives it, formulates it and stands by it. To be successful in today's competitive business environment, you need more than just managerial vision and excellent staff. You need to manage information, for which an optimized software system is a critical asset. FACTS has been especially designed to keep your information management in control. It distinguishes itself from the many other software packages in the market today by functioning as the digital nerve system of your entire organization and not just as the core of your accounting department.

We, at FACTS Computer Software House on the contrary, have a super specialized software development team here in Dubai itself, dedicated to provide fully customized software solutions based on the customer requirements

FACTS (ERP) Suite

A fully customizable solution which is designed to model and automate many of the basic processes of a company with the goal of integrating information across the company and eliminating complex, expensive links.

Advantages of a Fully Customizable ERP Suite:-

1. Get what exactly you are looking for

Every business organization has its own uniqueness in doing business. There are handful of systems available in the software market, but these systems will never be able to deliver the exact result what you were looking for since they have a defined boundary set for the scope of operation. This is where a fully customizable ERP has its advantages on. It can be defined based on your exact user requirements and systemize your complete business processes based on your business needs.

2. Invest only on what you need

When ERP level software is implemented in an organization, we need to identify whether the investment put on for its implementation is worth or not. In any ERP solution, we will find lot of features available in each module, which is good if our business process has a need of it and other wise will end up paying for what we might not be using at all. The cost of a solution is calculated based on the Line of Codes (LOC) and the Man Hours.

3. Systemize every thing which has a logical reasoning

Another added advantage in going for a customizable ERP is its flexibility in capturing any business process which has a logical reasoning and providing the best solutions for the problems associated to it.

4. Flexibility, Reliability and User friendliness

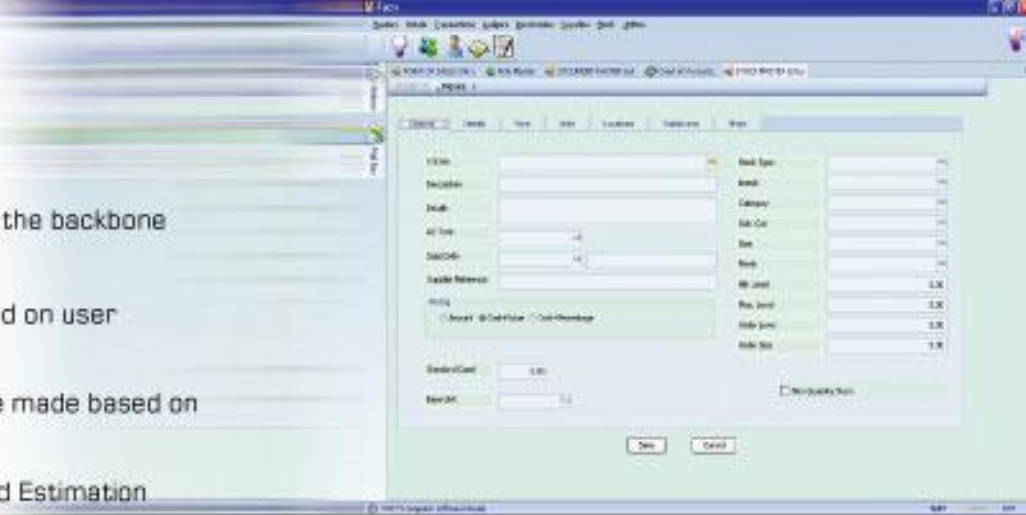

A system implemented should be flexible enough to handle the complexities in a business process, keeping reliability as the main criterion in a user friendly environment where the end user gets the maximum advantage.

5. Make use of the knowledge processes

Finding an alternative and the best solution for any problems in a business process is easy when the information is blend with the knowledge gained over years of experiences. Venders of customizable ERP solution with their years experience in the same market can provide lot of indirect advantages on resolving a problem.

FACTS eBiz Suite

To overcome the challenges of today's modern business, we have developed FACTS eBiz Suite, the first affordable application to combine the most commonly used eBusiness functions into one integrated application. With FACTS eBiz Suite, the Internet is integrated into the DNA of your business, opening new opportunities for growth and efficiency.

Features:-

Powerful Integration

FACTS eBiz Suite goes beyond eCommerce by giving you true e Business capabilities that can power both the company's web store and back office operations in one fully integrated application.

A complete Shopping Cart Solution

FACTS eBiz Suite includes a complete content management system (CMS) for building and maintaining the web store's content.

Fully Integrated with Accounting / ERP

Whether transactions are entered through your web store or through the back office, they are processed. Identically all the way through to your accounting ledger. This ensures accurate financial data, up to date reporting and a proper audit trail.

- ❖ One central point for all transaction eases financial reporting
- ❖ Stock Quantity is updated in real time with prompt for insufficient stock
- ❖ Payment terms and shipping methods can be assigned on a "per customer" basis
- ❖ Tax, B2B Pricing methods, discounts and more setup in the back office system flow through the web store

Reports

Report Generation is one of the core feature in any software systems and in FACTS eBiz Suite.

You have the flexibility of taking the Reports based on user requirements.

Though it is next to impossible to write all Reports FACTS eBiz Suite generation.

Summary

A Single Set of Business Logic Unifies the Company

With FACTS eBiz Suite there is only one system to setup and maintain. All data, whether entered from the website or back office system is instantly available throughout the entire application completely eliminating the need to move data from system to system. The benefits to this approach are real and substantial. All customer and inventory options setup in the back office work exactly the same whether a transaction is entered on the web or on the back end unifying your entire organization.

The right approach: With only one system running both the back office and the web, everything works together effortlessly. As customers place their orders online, the orders are instantly available within the back end system for processing or customer service inquiries; when inventory information is updated on the back end, it is instantly updated on the web for accurate stock availability. The result is complete customer satisfaction which turns into more sales and repeat business.

Benefits of FACTS e Biz Suite include...

❖ Designed for today's Connected World

FACTS eBiz Suite is a desktop application that uses the latest "web services" technology to securely connect to data over the internet. FACTS eBiz Suite offer LAN comparable performance over the internet.

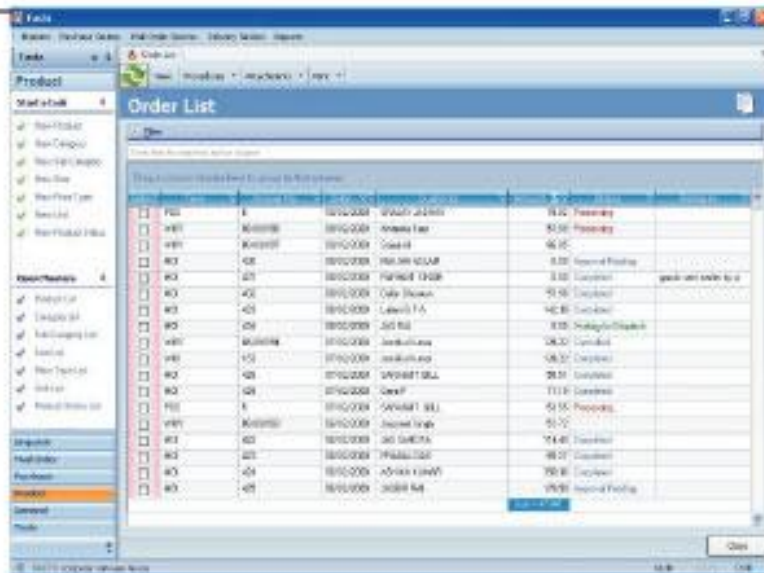

❖ Business to Consumer (B2C) and Business to Business (B2B) eCommerce Ready

Going online has never been easier with a single point of data controlling both your website and back office operations.

Pricing and other business rules work identically in both the eCommerce website and back office application.

❖ Real Time Data

With our new technology you can run your entire company from your local server or web server. With your website and backend operations running from the same server your entire business can run in real time without compromise.
